Day One - Thursday, June 27, 2024, 7 p.m.

Featured Festival Artists: Latitude 49, Parker Ramsay (solo harp set) and Land's End Ensemble

Day One kicks off the 2024 Sound Atlas Festival with three distinct and remarkable acts. New music powerhouse band Latitude 49 kicks it off with Marc Mellits' funky 'Blackitude' heard for the first time in Canada, a feature performance by the Contemporary Performance Lab fellows of Sarah Kirkland Snider's 'You Are Free' and the world premiere of Canadian composer Evan Ware's 'Checking Out'.

Parker Ramsay will defy expectations in his solo set for harp and electronics featuring music by Tom Morrison. Finally, Calgary's own JUNO-nominated Land's End Ensemble will present an infectious trio by Mason Bates and a special performance of featured composer Jared Miller's 'Leviathan'.

Day Two - Friday, June 28, 2024, 7 p.m.

Featured Festival Artists: Chris Sies (solo percussion set), Latitude 49 and Bug Incision presents Circular Sparrow

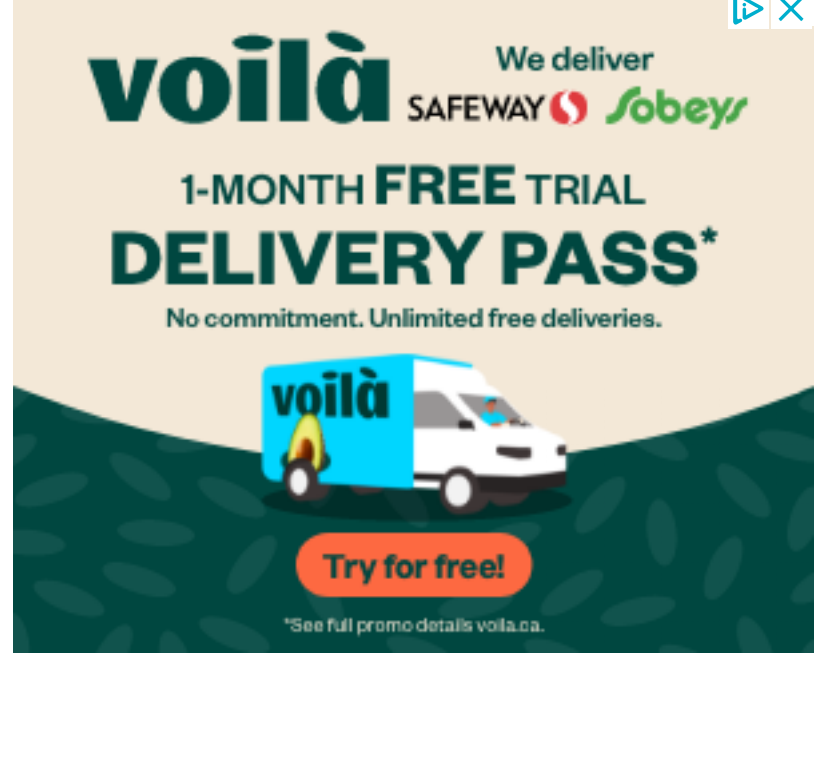

Day Two of Sound Atlas traverses the ever-changing horizon of contemporary music where genres blur and mingle in electro-acoustic bliss, featuring three distinct and adventurous acts. Chris Sies presents two Canadian premieres including an epic new work for percussion and electronics titled 'Saturn Still Returning' by Broxson and the gentle unfolding tones of Karina Howey's 'the only stars i see are from vertigo'.

Latitude 49 presents Tom Morrison's pulsating 'Memory and Material', the Canadian premiere of 'Glass House' by Kevin Day, and concluding with Jared Miller's 'Fuse', an audacious work that fuses together Latitude 49 and members of Land's End Ensemble into a supergroup. Day Two will conclude with an experimental sound exploration of improvisation by Calgary's own Circular Sparrow, presented by Bug Incision and led by composer/percussionist Chris Dadge.

Day Three - Saturday, June 29, 2024, 3 p.m.

Featured Festival Artists: Adam Zinatelli (trumpet) and Akiko Tominaga (piano), Nick Zoulek (solo saxophone set) and Latitude 49 with Parker Ramsay (harp)

Day Three will be a dynamic redefining of what is possible through contemporary performance art. Adam Zinatelli and Akiko Tominaga present Dorothy Chang's effervescent 'All That Glitters' as well as a new work by Calgary-based composer Arthur M. Bachmann that will receive its Canadian premiere.
